

Why measure community emissions?

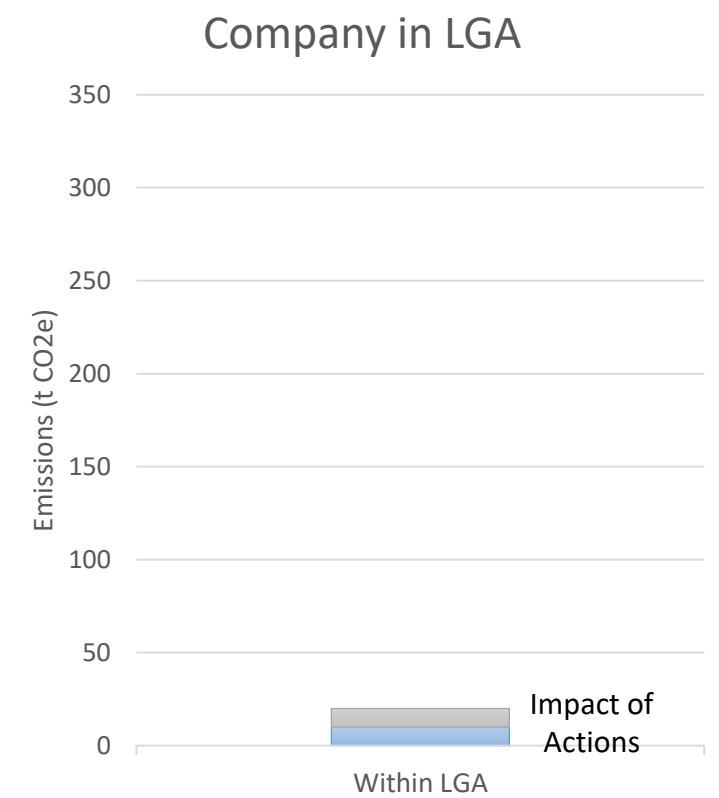

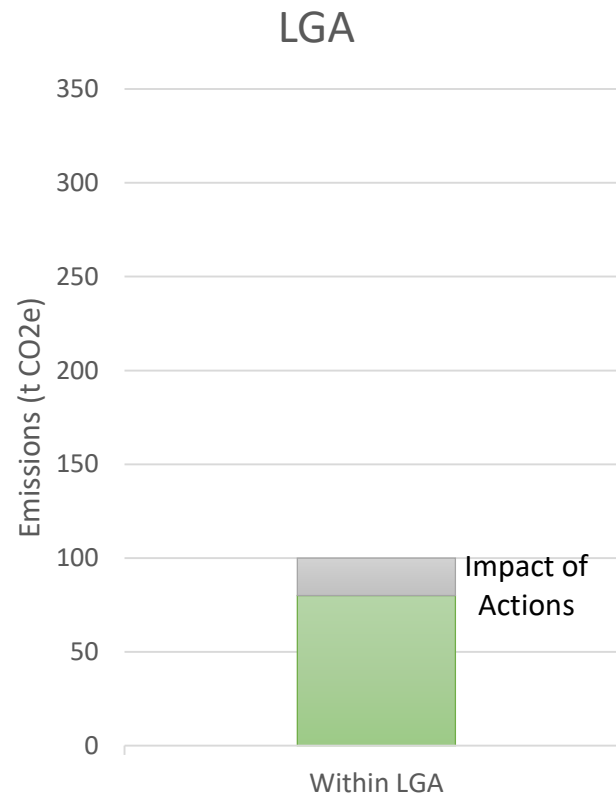

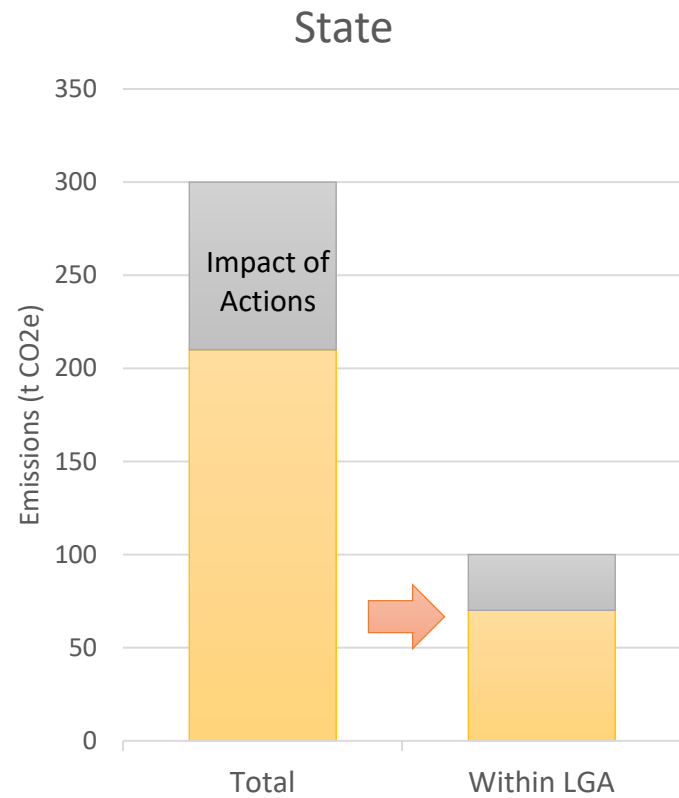

Why look at community emissions?

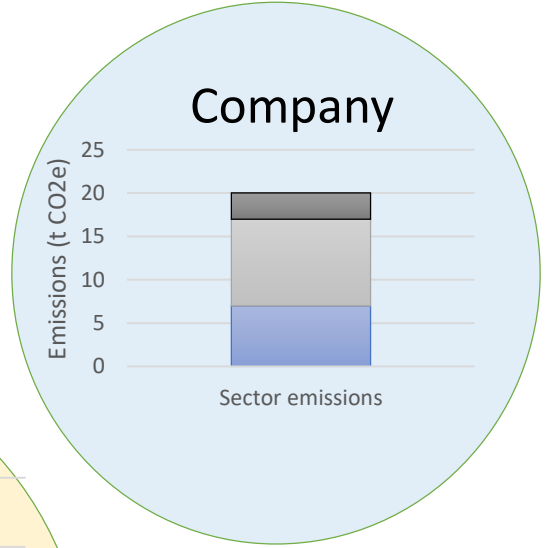

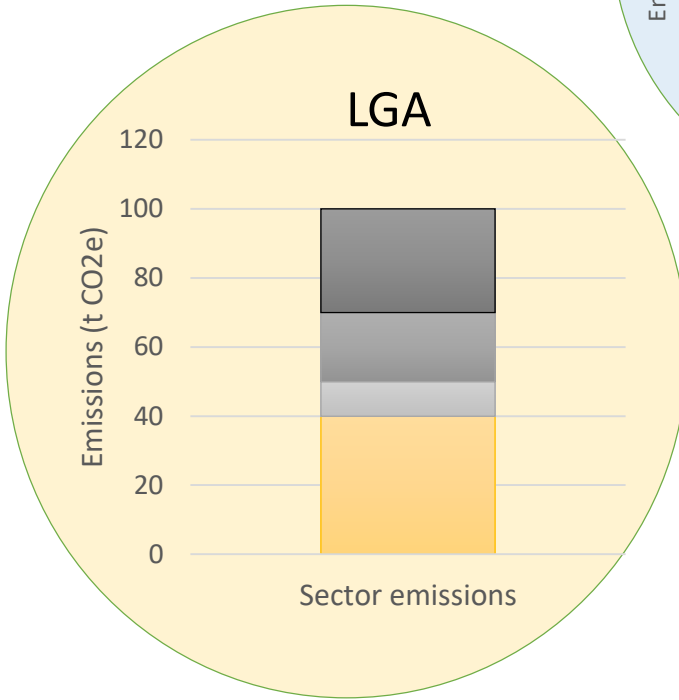

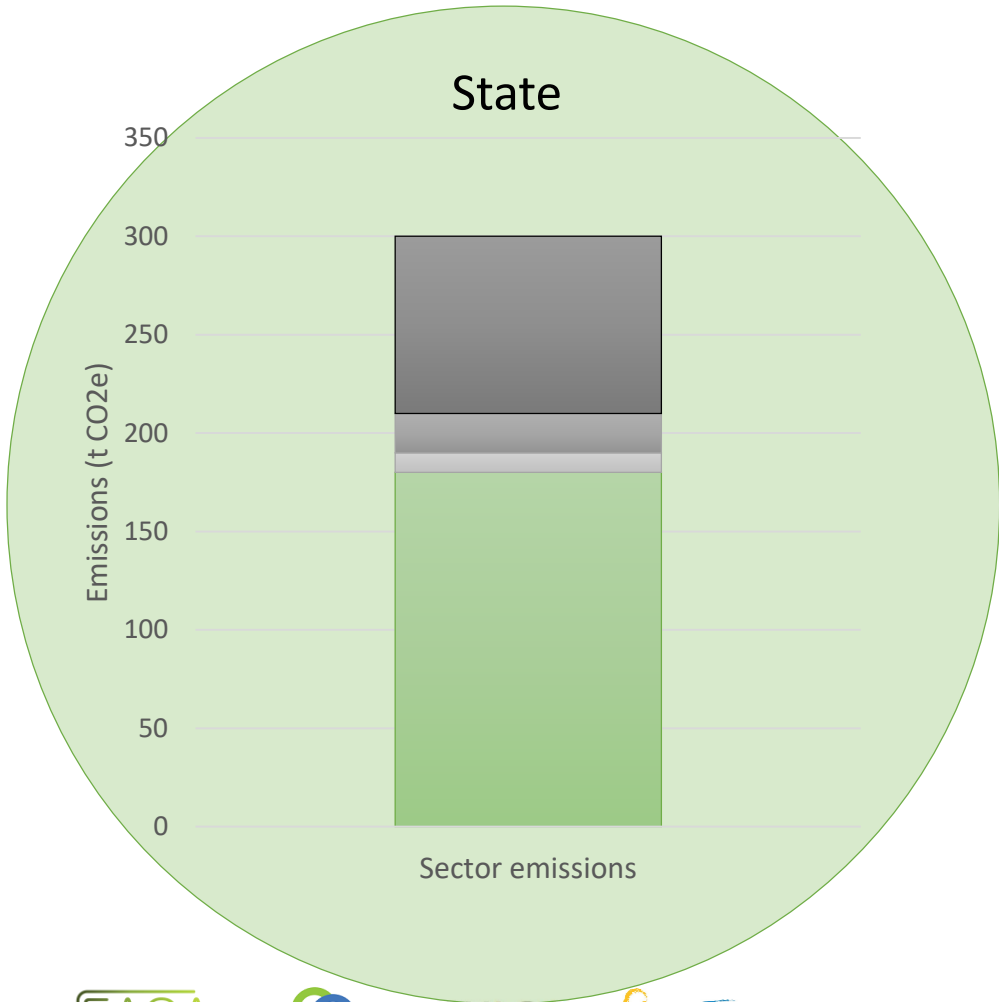

- Community emissions are substantial
- If councils want to play a role in climate change
- Emissions measurements are the framework to connect stakeholders and actions

Council as facilitator and consolidator

Council can connect everyone's story

Example: C40/Greater Melbourne collaboration

- All councils across the greater Melbourne area
- Common measurement, collective opportunities

